German Reports Hint at Fresh Allied Offensive On Eastern End of Battle-front — Report of Violent Drumfire in Caen Sector in Early Hours Indicates Launching of Fresh Big Offensive.

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS,
Allied Expeditionary Force, Aug. 1
(INS)—Troops of the American
First Army, smashing southward for new gains of four to five miles below the captured Norman city of Avranches, toppled the Germans out of positions, securing the western end of their line today.

German reports hinted at a fresh Allied offensive on the eastern end of the battlefront. Report of violent drumfire in the Caen sector in the early morning hours of today indicated the launching of a fresh big offensive.

Dispatches from an advanced reconnaissance base said that counter-attacks by remnants of a German panzer division in the area of Percy had been smashed and aerial observers said that the Americans and British in their co-ordinated drives were piercing deep into the German positions.

The British were reported to have gained high ground below the Soulverre River while the Americans at the center of their battle-line were reported advancing into the Villedieu sector.

The Allies scooped up hundreds of German prisoners.

The American drive beyond Avranches, front dispatches said, was aimed at the Nazi stronghold of St. Quentin which was reported already under bombardment.

that for Alva Murphy, 59, was a

the law and subsequently brought

GOV. MARTIN TELLS DEWEY THAT REPUBLICANS WILL CARRY STATE

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 1—Governor
Edward Martin last night told Governor Thomas E. Dewey, of New York, Republican Presidential nominee, that the party's National ticket would "win easily" in Pennsylvania at the November election.

The Pennsylvania executive's comment was made at a private dinner attended by Republican State leaders following a visit made here by the Presidential nominee to confer with business, labor, veteran, agriculture and political leaders so he can map campaign plans insofar as they affect the Commonwealth.

"We will win easily in Pennsylvania despite the Gallup or any other polls," Governor Martin asserted at the dinner.

Governor Dewey, who left here
for Springfield, Ill., en route to St.
Louis, where he will confer with 25 other Republican Governors, including Mr. Martin, was well pleased with the reception accorded him by the residents of this

TROLLEYS AND BUSES AT STANDSTILL IN PHILADELPHIA WHEN OPERATORS ALL REPORT "OFF SICK"; DECLARE "NO STRIKE"

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 1—(INS)
—In a spectacular and unheralded move all trolley car and bus transportation came to a halt in this metropolis of two million shortly before dawn today.

The awakening city and officials of the traction company alike learned after hundreds of trolley operators and bus drivers began turning in their vehicles, claiming to be "too ill to operate them."

Meanwhile, other hundreds of motormen and drivers—those due to augment the night force in meeting the heavy demands of workbound war plant employees—
reported "off sick."

Taxis and the subway-elevated systems, also operated by the Philadelphia Transportation Company, were not affected, but those means of transportation could handle only a small percentage of the hundreds of thousands of workers.

Labor leaders emphasized that there was "no strike."

According to police, the sudden wave of "sickness" among the traction company's employees was precipitated by its initiation of a training program for Negro trolley operators.

Eight Negroes—the first group of PTC motormen trainees of their race—began taking instructions yesterday. They are being given a chance to run trolleys in accordance with a new employment policy of the company affording Negroes equal opportunities with white workers.

Simultaneously, Frank L. Mc-
Namee, regional head of the War
Manpower Commission, assigned Postal Vaughan, Negro head of the USPS office, to recruit Negro aplicants for PTC jobs in the Philadelphia area.

YOUNG PEOPLE PLAN FOR THE FUTURE

Committee of Nine Confers About 'Teen-Age Canteen at Morrisville

OPEN ONE MORE NIGHT

MORRISVILLE, Aug. 1—The
'Teen Age Canteen has met with great success and a special committee composed of nine young people met with the supervisory board to make plans for the canteen board to offer suggestions that will go into effect immediately.

Because of the overwhelming success of the canteen the first two nights, it has been announced that another day will be added, making it open now on Wednesday and Friday evenings throughout the Summer. After school begins, special arrangements will be made with the school authorities to have the canteen open so that it will not interfere with school activities. It is also planned to have dancing after the evening football and basketball games.

Included on the list of suggestions will be a bulletin board to announce coming events and committees, a suggestion box, and special entertainment each night. A dance orchestra will be secured at various times. The young people also have added more refreshments to the snack bar. A ping-pong tournament is being arranged, as well as a barn dance.

Enthusiastic over the canteen,
the young people said at the meeting that not only did they want it for their own amusement, but it was their aim to have the returning servicemen of the town use it as a morale booster and a place to get acquainted again.

An emblem has been submitted by the teen-agers for the canteen, and it is planned to submit it to other organizations so that it can become nationally known. Made by the father of the chairman, Ted Ediss, the emblem is in the form of a silver wreath on a blue background, with a red heart in the center of a silver star. The number of the organization will be put on the wreath. Plans will be made to raise funds for the emblem which will be in the form of a flag, and also for an American flag for the canteen.

A committee of nine young people will serve each month, with the outgoing committee appointing the members who serve solely on a voluntary basis. A house committee of five boys will also be appointed to take care of the canteen.

Ted Ediss heads the first canteen committee, with the following assisting: Snack bar, Bill Rogers,
Jane Landis, Lois Querns, Ken Mc-
Clenaghan, Doris Marshall; door,
Ted Ediss, Charles Farkas, Dolly
Selling and Edwood Higgins.

Bucks County Placed In A Critical Area

Bucks County along with Camden and Gloucester County in New Jersey, and Delaware, Montgomery and Chester counties in Pennsylvania today became Group 1 Critical Labor Market Area, Frank L.
McNamee, regional director of the War Manpower Commission, announced yesterday.

The order, affecting the two cities and six adjoining counties,
means:

That 35 essential industry groups will go on a 48-hour week basis effective Sept. 1.

That eight locally needed industries will go on a similar work basis at the same time.

That Class C, or less-essential industries, will be requested to adopt a 48-hour week voluntarily, and will be officially required to adopt such a work week on Oct. 1.

That war procurement agencies will award no more contracts in this area which will further swell the backlog of contracts already held. This does not mean, however, that contracts will not be awarded to plants that can handle them, and Mr. McNamee pointed out that where contracts are placed elsewhere every effort will be made to distribute sub-contracts among Philadelphia producers.

The eight-hour increase of the work-week in the industries affected will be paid for, under the Federal Wages and Hours Law, at time-and-a-half rates.

However, a set-up has been arranged under which certain employers may obtain exemptions, and the WMC regional director assured all employers that the area will remain in the "critical" classification only so long as the labor shortage and the current production lag prevails.

Where the 48-hour week, he said, would not provide a greater production or improve community facilities, the probability of an employer obtaining exemption was "fairly favorable."

LATEST NEWS BULLETINS

Germans Admit Withdrawal On Normandy Front

London—A German withdrawal of "a few kilometers" to the south of the line running between Hottot and Vire on the Normandy front was reported today by the Nazi high command.

"In the new positions," the communique asserted, "all attacks by the enemy who vigorously followed up our moves were repelled. The enemy who broke deep into our positions on the western wing of the front was held by a counter-attack immediately south of Avranches."

"In the eastern part of the bridgehead, the enemy during the night increased his artillery fire to the intensity of a drum barrage. Last night heavy German bombers made effective attacks on enemy troop concentrations and bases northwest of Avranches."

Allied Bombers Blast German Defense Line

A U. S. A. F. Armored Reconnaissance Base in England—Allied armored divisions today began blasting loose the hinge of the German defense line in the Forêt Le Veque sector and ripped out the enemy western anchor below Avranches.

American armored units crossed the Sélune River four to five miles south of Avranches. Along the American front there was no coordinated enemy resistance reported west of Villedieu. The enemy's attempt at counter-attacking northeast of Percy was thrown back.

Armor and infantry continued to roll down the western side of the Cotentin (Cherbourg) Peninsula and to sweep eastward. During the morning strong armored units moved into Le Haye Pesnil, Sartilly, and Torigny and many other towns and villages.

BRISTOLIAN LOSES LIFE IN FRANCE; TRIO IS WOUNDED

Pfc. John J. Hagney, Spruce Street, is Killed in Action

PFC. ADAMS WOUNDED

Pvt. Charles A. Wallace and
Pvt. Joseph A. Winslow
Also Casualties

Casualty lists of the past few days show that one Bristol serviceman was killed in action, and three wounded on the battle-fronts.

That her son, PFC John J. Hag-ney, was killed in action in France was the sad message received yesterday by Mrs. Anna Hagney, 669 Spruce street. PFC
Hagney was the son of the late John Hagney.

The late soldier, who entered the army three years ago, went to England in February. He had trained at Camp Wheeler, Ga.; Camp
Blanding, Fla.; Camp Forest,
Tenn.; and Camp Atterbury, Ind.

The young man was a communications man at St. Mark's R. C. Church.

In addition to his mother, he is survived by the following sisters and brothers: Mrs. Robert Dafter, Newtown; Mrs. K. Brown, the Misses Sarah, Theresa and Nancy Hagney, Philadelphia; Daniel J.
and James Hagney, of Bristol.

Solemn Requiem High Mass will be held in St. Mark's Church on Saturday morning at 10 o'clock.
Relatives and friends of the soldier are invited to attend.

One of the wounded is PFC Wilbur H. Adams, 229 Market street.

PFC Adams was slightly wounded in the month on July 13th he had informed his father in a letter, and a telegram from the War Department which followed mentioned that the young infantryman was slightly wounded on the Italy front. In the words of young Adams: "A German mortar got tired of being a vegetarian and took a bite out of my lip."

A former Kohn & Haas Co. employee, he entered the army in February, 1943, and went overseas in December. He is a graduate of Bristol high school. His brother, LeRoy Adams, S. 1/2, is in the South Pacific.

One of the wounded men is Pvt.
Charles A. Wallace, husband of Evelyn Wallace, of 403 Washington street. The War Department telegram informed that the injury occurred on June 17th in France.
Mrs. Wallace had previously been informed by her husband that his leg was broken, but he had not stated he was in action. A letter received yesterday from the War Department by Mrs. Wallace informed that her husband is making "normal improvement."

Pvt. Wallace went to England in April, he having entered the army in October, 1943. He trained at Camp Wheeler, Ga.

Pvt. Joseph A. Winslow, 892
Beaver street, states in a letter to his wife, Dorothy Anderson Winslow, that he is "pretty lucky" as far as wounds he has received are concerned. The parts of the letter in which Winslow tells what part of his anatomy are affected have been eliminated by censors, but it is presumed that Winslow was injured in the arm. The letter written by the 32-year-old army man from a hospital in England, informs that he can "still walk," he mentioning that "three of us were hit at the same time, while in France."

Winslow entered the service last November, and went overseas about the end of April. He was a former employee of Rohm & Haas Co.

Today's Quiet Moment

By the Rev. Arthur D. Sargis
Pastor

Eddington

Thou, our God, Who art from everlasting to everlasting we thank Thee for the gift of time. Our days are truly numbered. The sands of time are fast running out but we do believe that "the best is yet to be." While we continue with our basic training in the maneuvers of earthly existence may we give a good account of ourselves. Our goal is Christlikeness. To that goal may we press on as we begin a new month. A new month means new opportunities for all who have become new creatures in Christ Jesus. Cleanse us from all unworthy worldly attachments and may we in this month, beginning today, rise to new levels in Christ. Amen.

THIS IS A MILK FACTORY

Out in the open, and under the sun, nature is at work producing her most nearly perfect food... the fine, fresh milk that brings you vitamins, minerals and proteins and helps to make America the best fed nation on the earth today.

On Supplee farms like this, the rich fields of pasture so carefully planted and tended by the Supplee farmer, the skilful breeding methods that continuously up the production of the herd, and the endless hard work in barn and milk house... all are helping to produce a sufficiency of pure, scientifically safeguarded milk to fill the greatest needs in history.

For the present, you can get as much of this vital-to-your-family food as you need from your Supplee milk man or woman, or at your neighborhood store. But we ask you to be conservative in your use of cream and by-products, for the government has again placed restrictions on them. You see, they're needed to be preserved in more permanent forms—butter and cheese, for instance—that can be shipped abroad to our armies and allies.

Now, as always, you can look to Supplee for your full share of the available supply of milk and dairy products... and for the milk that's extra nourishing—Supplee Sealtest

Homogenized Vitamin D Milk with the cream mixed throughout. You can count on Supplee to keep you informed of any changes.

15 ERRORS CAUSE ARROWS TO LOSE TO TRENTON NINE

American Steel Takes Game By the Score of 7 to 5

DE RISI ON THE MOUND

Ragged Support Was Responsible For Loss of the Game

Committing a total of 15 errors, the Fleetwings team lost to the American Steel nine last evening on Wetzel field, Trenton. The winners made 13 hits but tight pitching held their score down, the final tabulations being: American Steel, 7; Fleetwings, 5.

Despite the ragged support handed him, "Mike" DeRisi did a fine job on the hill for the Arrows until he was relieved by Lon Heisler in the seventh. DeRisi, although the Trenton team had runners in scoring position in each inning, managed to blank the Steelers for the first three frames.

During this stretch, the Wingers managed to tab three markers. The first was scored when Holcomb tripled and scored on a fly by Calderone. The second came in when Ludwig walked, was sacrificed to second, and scored on a hit by Heisler. The third counter was registered when Lodge walked, was sacrificed and scored on an error by Liberatore.

The 3-0 lead failed to hold for in the last half of the fourth, the Steelers knotted the count. McGowan opened with a single and advanced on an infield out. Al Rossi hit safely and when Ludwig let the ball get away from him, two runs scored. M. Rossi dented the plate on an infield out.

American Steel went ahead in the fifth when with two out, Pete Rossi doubled and scored on McGowan's hit. The following inning, the Steelers clinched the tilt when M. Rossi singled and scored on a double by Liberatore. An infield out and a bad throw by Elbert gave the Steelers their sixth run.

Sammy Calderone tripled with Heisler and Holcomb on base to give Fleetwings a pair of runs in the seventh but it was too late.

Al Rossi pitched good ball for the winners, allowing the Arrows but five hits and fanned six batters. McGowan held Rossi along with several fine catches in left field.

U. S. COAST GUARD 'SPARS' SCHEDULED TO PLAY 'ALL-STAR' SOFTBALL GAME HERE ON TUESDAY AT HIGH SCHOOL

The United States Coast Guard Spars from the Philadelphia Navy Yard will be the first opponents of the Bristol All-Stars, in a softball game to be played on the Bristol high school field next Tuesday evening.

The Spars, made up from players from all sections of the nation, are coached by Bosmate 2/C John Lumsden, 3rd, of Cornwells Heights. In its list of players are several former girls who played softball at various colleges.

The Spars participated in the Philadelphia United Service women's softball league. The proceeds of this tilt will go to the Coast Guard Relief Fund.

According to the present arrangement, the "Spars" will bring their own military band, and George F. Moran, president of the Bristol Industrial Girls Softball Association, will ask the Bristol Cadets to participate. Burgess Jacob C. Schmidt, Sr., will be invited to toss out the first ball.

Coach Frank Fields, of the All-Stars, will hold his first practice session tomorrow evening and will begin to pick his starting combination. Coach Fields is being assisted by Marquerite Thompson, of the Rohm & Haas team, and Joseph Valenti, of the Hunter team.

Pvt. Hartpence, according to the letters, was greatly surprised when his brother put in his appearance at his camp in Italy.

Harry's ship had put in at a nearby point, and learning it would be there a day or two, got shore leave in order to look up his brother.

The brothers had time enough to see a number of the towns, and accompanying one of the letters was a picture which the brothers had taken together.

The A. R. Atkinson, Jr., Post, No. 219, of the American Legion, Doylestown, will be asked to fall in line with the 12,000 Legion posts and 9,000 auxiliaries in this country in an intensive drive throughout the nation to collect waste paper from September 3 through September 16 and as long thereafter as necessary.

The plans call for a pledge from every family to save a specific amount of waste paper in the name of some service man or woman, and the drive will terminate on a specified day that will be known as Honor Roll Day, when residents of every community where there is a Legion post, will meet at the Honor Roll Board to fulfill their pledges and to honor the fighting forces.

It has been explained that the Legion has no intention of supplementing or interfering with any existing collection systems, but in order to throw its full weight behind and dramatize this drive to the public, the Legion feels it could make a big contribution by doing a job all over the country during a specified period.

A new "Champion" in invasion warfare STUDEBAKER WEASEL

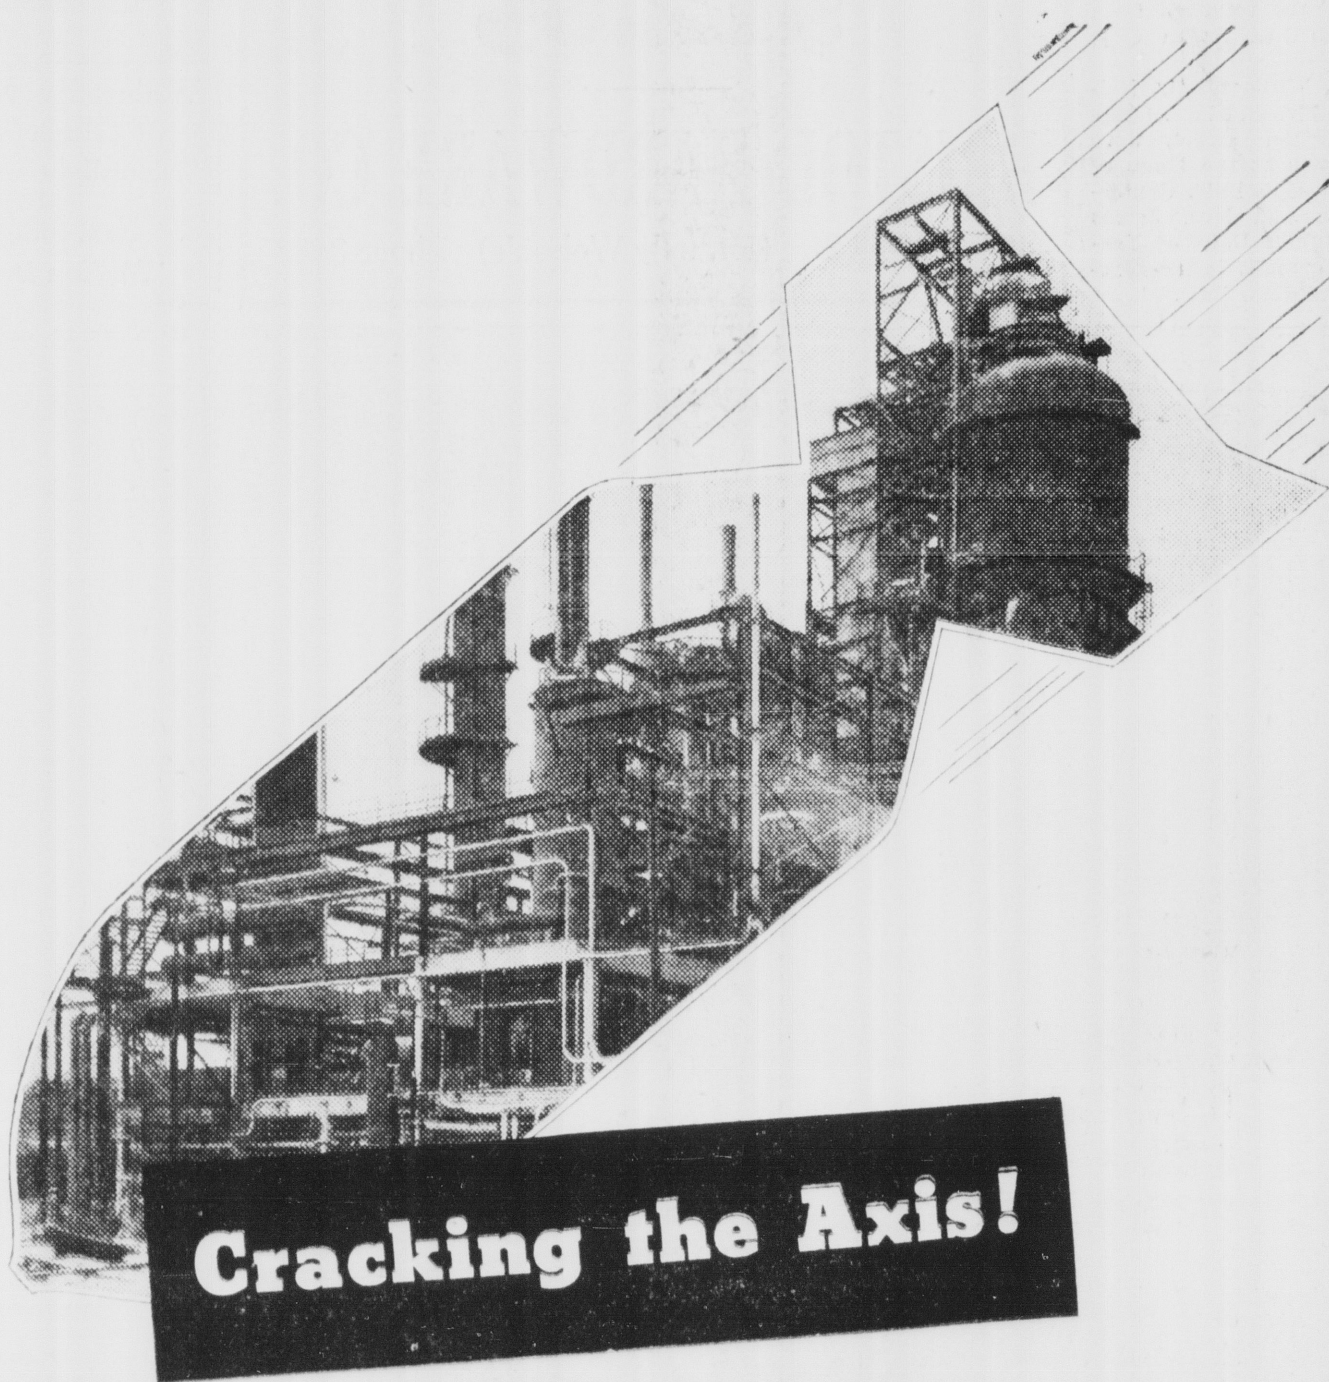

Scene on the sands of Normandy beach—June, 1944.

BUILT BY STUDEBAKER . . . POWERED BY STUDEBAKER CHAMPION ENGINE

YOU'll hear a lot more about this agile new Allied personnel and cargo carrier as our invasion armies roll deeper into Europe. . . . Born of war's needs—brainchild of the Office of Scientific Research and Development, the War Department and Studebaker engineers—the Weasel is being manufactured by Studebaker under contract with the Ordnance Department, Army Service Forces. . . . It's Studebaker-built—and it's powered by the famous Studebaker Champion engine. . . . Officially designated the M-29, it was soon nicknamed the Weasel. And like a weasel it is—in stealth and swiftness—in sure-footed movement on practically any kind of terrain.

Cracking the Axis!

ATLANTIC's refineries help crack Germany and Japan as they crack more oil to produce 100-octane aviation fuel.

Need for this super-gas grows ever greater with invasion pilots "pouring it on" to outfly and outmaneuver desperate enemy air fleets.

And Atlantic's answer to this increased demand is the completion of two new catalytic cracking units—one at Point Breeze, Philadelphia, last week . . . another at Port Arthur, Texas, within 30 days.

These huge units, built at a cost of $14,000,000, will triple the flow of Atlantic 100-octane gasoline production that has been rising continuously since Pearl Harbor.

World fighting fronts are taking all their output now—and will take all the added production. Just to assure one month's consumption at the front, a three-month reserve supply is needed in the war theater, a two-month supply in manufacture and in transit.

So the new "cats" produce no gasoline for civilians now.

But after Victory, they will mean new power and economy for your car . . . as Atlantic research converts these most advanced cracking units to the processing of high-octane motor gasoline.

AMERICAN FIRST ARMY, SMASHING TO SOUTH, TOPPLES NAZIS OUT OF THEIR POSITIONS; SECURE WEST END OF LINE

German Reports Hint at Fresh Allied Offensive On Eastern End of Battle-front — Report of Violent Drumfire in Caen Sector in Early Hours Indicates Launching of Fresh Big Offensive.

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, Allied Expeditionary Force, Aug. 1.—(INS)—Troops of the American First Army, smashing southward for new gains of four to five miles below the captured Norman city of Avranches, toppled the Germans out of positions, securing the western end of their line today.

German reports hinted at a fresh Allied offensive on the eastern end of the battlefront. Report of violent drumfire in the Caen sector in the early morning hours of today indicated the launching of a fresh big offensive.

Dispatches from an advanced reconnaissance base said that counter-attacks by remnants of a German panzer division in the area of Percy had been smashed and aerial observers said that the Americans and British in their coordinated drives were piercing deep into the German positions.

The British were reported to have gained high ground below the Souleuvre River while the Americans at the center of their battle-line were reported advancing into the Villieu sector.

The Allies scooped up hundreds of German prisoners.

The American drive beyond Avranches, front dispatches said, was aimed at the Nazi stronghold of St. Quentin which was reported already under bombardment.

GOV. MARTIN TELLS DEWEY THAT REPUBLICANS WILL CARRY STATE

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 1.—Governor Edward Martin last night told Governor Thomas E. Dewey, of New York, Republican Presidential nominee, that the party's National ticket would "win easily" in Pennsylvania at the November election.

The Pennsylvania executive's comment was made at a private dinner attended by Republican State leaders following a visit made here by the Presidential nominee to confer with business, labor, veteran, agriculture and political leaders so he can map campaign plans insofar as they affect the Commonwealth.

"We will win easily in Pennsylvania despite the Gallup or any other polls," Governor Martin asserted at the dinner.

Governor Dewey, who left here for Springfield, Ill., en route to St. Louis, where he will confer with 25 other Republican Governors, including Mr. Martin, was well pleased with the reception accorded him by the residents of this normally Democratic steel community.

Pennsylvania political chieftains asked Mr. Dewey to make two campaign appearances in the State, one in Philadelphia and the other in this city, when the actual ballot drive begins.

Although he is said to have expressed a desire to return to Pennsylvania, Mr. Dewey told the State leaders they would be required to take the matter up with Republican National Chairman Herbert E. Brownell, who will map the campaign itinerary.

The Pennsylvanians were heartened by Mr. Dewey's visit and expressed the belief it would aid considerably in cutting down the normal Democratic or rather Roosevelt majorities in Allegheny and other western Pennsylvania counties during Presidential years.

Earlier in the day, Governor Martin said the Presidential candidate would carry 59 of the 67 counties, and that the Republican cause was gaining in rural areas because of growing dissatisfaction with New Deal regimentation and bureaucracy.

TROLLEYS AND BUSES AT STANDSTILL IN PHILADELPHIA WHEN OPERATORS ALL REPORT "OFF SICK"; DECLARE "NO STRIKE"

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 1.—(INS)—In a spectacular and unheralded move all trolley car and bus transportation came to a halt in this metropolis of two million shortly before dawn today.

The awakening city and officials of the traction company alike learned of the transportation paralysis after hundreds of trolley operators and bus drivers began turning in their vehicles, claiming to be "too ill to operate them."

Meanwhile, other hundreds of motemen and drivers—those due to augment the night force in meeting the heavy demands of work-bound war plant employees—reported "off sick."

Taxis and the subway-elevated systems, also operated by the Philadelphia Transportation Company, were not affected, but those means of transportation could handle only a small percentage of the

Committee of Nine Confers About "Teen-Age Canteen at Morrisville"

OPEN ONE MORE NIGHT

MORRISVILLE, Aug. 1.—The "Teen Age Canteen" has met with great success and a special committee composed of nine young people met with the supervisory board to make plans for the canteen and offer suggestions that will go into effect immediately.

Because of the overwhelming success of the canteen the first two nights, it has been announced that another day will be added, making it open now on Wednesday and Friday evenings throughout the Summer. After school begins, special arrangements will be made with the school authorities to have the canteen open so that it will not interfere with school activities. It is also planned to have dancing after the evening football and basketball games.

Included on the list of suggestions will be a bulletin board to announce coming events and committees, a suggestion box, and special entertainment each night. A dance orchestra will be secured at various times. The young people also have added more refreshments to the snack bar. A ping-pong tournament is being arranged, as well as a barn dance.

Enthusiastic over the canteen, the young people said at the meeting that not only did they want it for their own amusement, but it was their aim to have the returning servicemen of the town use it as a morale booster and a place to get acquainted again.

An emblem has been submitted by the teen-agers for the canteen, and it is planned to submit it to other organizations so that it can become nationally known. Made by the father of the chairman, Ted Edliss, the emblem is in the form of a silver wreath on a blue background, with a red heart in the center of a silver star. The number of the organization will be put on the wreath. Plans will be made to raise funds for the emblem which will be in the form of a flag, and also for an American flag for the canteen.

A committee of nine young people will serve each month, with the outgoing committee appointing the members who serve solely on a voluntary basis. A house committee of five boys will also be appointed to take care of the canteen.

Bucks County Placed In A Critical Area

Bucks County along with Camden and Gloucester County in New Jersey, and Delaware, Montgomery and Chester counties in Pennsylvania today became Group 1 Critical Labor Market Area, Frank L. McNamee, regional director of the War Manpower Commission, announced yesterday.

The order, affecting the two cities and six adjoining counties, means:

That 35 essential industry groups will go on a 48-hour week basis effective Sept. 1.

That eight locally needed industries will go on a similar work basis at the same time.

That Class C, or less-essential industries, will be requested to adopt a 48-hour week voluntarily, and will be officially required to adopt such a work week on Oct. 1.

That war procurement agencies will award no more contracts in this area which will further swell the backlog of contracts already held. This does not mean, however, that contracts will not be awarded to plants that can handle them, and Mr. McNamee pointed out that where contracts are placed elsewhere every effort will be made to distribute sub-contracts among Philadelphia producers.

The eight-hour increase of the work-week in the industries affected will be paid for, under the Federal Wages and Hours Law, at time-and-a-half rates.

However, a set-up has been arranged under which certain employers may obtain exemptions, and the WMC regional director assured all employers that the area will remain in the "critical" classification only so long as the labor shortage and the current production lag prevail.

Where the 48-hour week, he said, would not provide a greater production or improve community facilities, the probability of an employer obtaining exemption was "fairly favorable."

BRISTOLIAN LOSES LIFE IN FRANCE; TRIO IS WOUNDED

Pfc. John J. Hagney, Spruce Street, is Killed in Action

PFC. ADAMS WOUNDED

Pvt. Charles A. Wallace and Pvt. Joseph A. Winslow Also Casualties

Casualty lists of the past few days show that one Bristol serviceman was killed in action, and three wounded on the battle-fronts.

That her son, PFC John J. Hagney, was killed in action in France was the sad message received yesterday by Mrs. Anna Hagney, 659 Spruce street. PFC Hagney was the son of the late John Hagney.

The late soldier, who entered the army three years ago, went to England in February. He had trained at Camp Wheeler, Ga.; Camp Blending, Fla.; Camp Forest, Tenn.; and Camp Atterbury, Ind.

The young man was a communicant of St. Mark's R. C. Church.

In addition to his mother, he is survived by the following sisters and brothers: Mrs. Robert Datter, Newtown; Mrs. K. Brown, the Misses Sarah, Theresa and Nancy Hagney, Philadelphia; Daniel J. and James Hagney, of Bristol.

Solemn Requiem High Mass will be said in St. Mark's Church on Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. Relatives and friends of the soldier are invited to attend.

One of the wounded is PFC William H. Adams, 21, son of Christopher B. Adams, 229 Market street.

PFC Adams was slightly wounded in the month on July 13th, he had informed his father in a letter, and a telegram from the War Department which followed mentioned that the young infantryman was slightly wounded on the Italy front. In the words of young Adams "A German mortar got tired of being a vegetarian and took a bite out of my lip."

A former Lohm & Haas Co. employee, he entered the army in February, 1943, and went overseas in December. He is a graduate of Bristol high school. His brother, LeRoy Adams, S. I. C., is in the South Pacific.

One of the wounded men is Pvt. Charles A. Wallace, husband of Evelyn Wallace, of 493 Washington street. The War Department telegram informed that the injury occurred on June 17th in France. Mrs. Wallace had previously been informed by her husband that his leg was broken, but he had not stated he was in action. A letter received yesterday from the War Department by Mrs. Wallace informed that her husband is making "normal improvement."

Pvt. Wallace went to England in April, he having entered the army in October, 1943. He trained at Camp Wheeler, Ga.

Pvt. Joseph A. Winslow, 892 Beaver street, states in a letter to his wife, Dorothy Anderson Winslow, that he is "pretty lucky" as far as wounds he has received are concerned. The parts of the letter in which Winslow tells what part of his anatomy are affected have been eliminated by censors, but it is presumed that Winslow was injured in the arm. The letter written by the 32-year-old army man from a hospital in England, informs that he can "still walk," he mentioning that "three of us were hit at the same time, while in France."

Winslow entered the service last November, and went overseas about the end of April. He was a former employee of Rohm & Haas Co.

Germans Admit Withdrawal On Normandy Front

London.—A German withdrawal of "a few kilometers" to the south of the line running between Hottot and Vire on the Normandy front was reported today by the Nazi high command.

"In the new positions," the communique asserted, "all attacks by the enemy who vigorously followed up our moves were repelled. The enemy who broke deep into our positions on the western wing of the front was held by a counter-attack immediately south of Avranches."

"In the eastern part of the bridgehead, the enemy during the night increased his artillery fire to the intensity of a drum barrage. Last night heavy German bombers made effective attacks on enemy troop concentrations and bases northwest of Avranches."

Allied Bombers Blast German Defense Line

A T. S. A. F. Armored Reconnaissance Base in England—Allied armored divisions today began blasting loose the hinge of the German defense line in the Fort Le Veque sector and ripped out the enemy western anchor below Avranches.

American armored units crossed the Seine River four to five miles south of Avranches. Along the American front there was no coordinated enemy resistance reported west of Villieu. The enemy's attempt at counter-attacking northeast of Percy was thrown back.

Armor and infantry continued to roll down the western side of the Cotentin (Cherbourg) Peninsula and to sweep eastward. During the morning strong armored units moved into Le Havre Penin, Sartilly, and Torigny and many other towns and villages.

In a recent clash with the Luftwaffe he sent a Messerschmitt 199 down to earth in flames to chalk up his first victory.

THE NOOSE DRAWS TIGHTER

From all sides, the Allied pressure on the Germans is increasing. And like men doomed to the gallows, the Germans are fighting bitterly, desperately. But the noose is tightening constantly, and they don't like the feel of it.

Measured by the tremendous scale of the fighting on the Russian front, the battle of Normandy may seem like a secondary engagement. Yet it is of the utmost importance. It is a simple matter of geography now. The Allies are driving for the wide plain to the southeast of Caen. When that plain is reached, the Anglo-American forces will have the elbow-room for the drive deep into France.

The Germans apparently staked everything on their ability to repel an invasion from England. That was Rommel's whole plan. He seemed to feel that he could either beat off an invasion attempt, or neutralize it to a small and ineffective beachhead.

But the Allied generals out-maneuvered the Germans. The invasion did succeed. It became instantly the most important front of all. The Germans have given the fighting in the West top billing in their own communiques, and even the Russians have been watching the Normandy fighting with interest second only to the news from their own mammoth front.

All this pressure—the tremendous new defeats in the East, in Italy and now in France—is combining to destroy the Nazis' one last great hope, a negotiated peace. It is the goal to which their propaganda has been directed.

But the German generals have been unable to produce the stalemate that they hoped would make a negotiated peace possible. Crushed armies are of no value in negotiations. That the Germans still have hopes of somehow, in some way, bringing the fighting in Normandy to some kind of pause can be seen in their savage counter attacks.

When the Allied front in France begins to move and expand like the other fronts, the last vestige of the Germans' evil dream will be shattered. From that moment, it will be only a question of time until Allied troops pour into a beaten Germany.

NAZI PRISONERS

There are more than 300,000 Nazi prisoners in camps in the United States, England and Canada. As a rule they are husky, well-fed, aloof and arrogant—still Nazis to the core. When the war is over and they are sent home they will not go as citizens of a conquered land but as militants eager to fight again.

There isn't anything the Allied countries can do about it. Any effort to reform them would be received with coldness. Hot bloods among the prisoners conduct a campaign to keep the Nazi philosophy to the fore and there is evidence that any German prisoner who falters in his fealty to Hitler is ostracized by his fellows.

Name of new insecticide, dichlorodiphenyl-p-trichloroethane, should save the most ambitious mosquito.

MOLD APPEARING ON CANNED FRUIT CAN WELL BE PREVENTED

By Mary Jacoby Fleetham
(Home Economics Representative)
Hand in hand with fruit canning come problems of spoilage. Homemakers frequently ask "Why does mold appear on some of my canned fruit?" Others ask "What causes my peaches and pears to turn dark brown after they are canned?"

Mold on canned fruit indicates that the jars were not completely sealed. Mold can form only in the presence of air.

In the open kettle method of canning, presence of air may be caused by filling a number of jars at one time and allowing them to cool before covering and sealing. If canning open kettle, be sure to sterilize jars thoroughly. Air in jars also may be caused by food or seeds lodged between the lid and the jar. Be sure to wipe the edge of the jar clean before adjusting the lid.

Discoloration of fruits in the top of the jar may be caused by continued enzyme activity that may indicate underprocessing. One remedy is to increase the processing time 5 to 10 minutes, making sure that the jars in the boiling water bath are covered by at least one inch of water so that food will be evenly cooked.

Discoloration also may be caused by exposing the peeled fruit to the air too long before putting it into jars. Pears may be dropped into slightly salted or plain water until ready to put into jars.

Gov. Martin Tells Dewey GOP Will Carry State

Pennsylvania are excellent," declared Governor Martin after attending several of the meetings arranged for Mr. Dewey.

Further, he added, the residents of rural areas resent the political activities of the CIO, but said they are so busy helping to win the war he did not know how active they will be "outside of casting their own ballots."

Among the Pennsylvania political leaders who met and conferred with Governor Dewey, besides Mr. Martin, were: Lieutenant Governor John C. Bell, Jr., State Chairman M. Harvey Taylor, G. Mason Owell and Mrs. Worthington Scranton, members of the Republican National Committee, U. S. Senator James J. Davis, five other candidates for State-wide offices and 18 of the party's Congressional candidates, including Congressman Joseph M. Pratt and Hugh D. Scott, of Philadelphia.

Today's Quiet Moment By the Rev. Arthur D. Sargis Pastor Eddington Presbyterian Church Eddington

Thou, our God, Who art from everlasting to everlasting we thank Thee for the gift of time. Our days are truly numbered. The sands of time are fast running out but we do believe that "the best is yet to be." While we continue with our basic training in the maneuvers of earthly existence may we give a good account of ourselves. Our goal is Christlikeness. To that goal may we press on as we begin a new month. A new month means new opportunities for all who have become new creatures in Christ Jesus. Cleanse us from all unworthy worldly attachments and may we in this month, beginning today, rise to new levels in Christ. Amen.

"Minnesota Farm." from an original lithograph by Adolph Lin

THIS IS A MILK FACTORY

Out in the open, and under the sun, nature is at work producing her most nearly perfect food... the fine, fresh milk that brings you vitamins, minerals and proteins and helps to make America the best fed nation on the earth today.

On Supplee farms like this, the rich fields of pasture so carefully planted and tended by the Supplee farmer, the skilful breeding methods that continuously up the production of the herd, and the endless hard work in barn and milk house... all are helping to produce a sufficiency of pure, scientifically safeguarded milk to fill the greatest needs in history.

For the present, you can get as much of this vital-to-your-family food as you need from your Supplee milk man or woman, or at your neighborhood store. But we ask you to be conservative in your use of cream and by-products, for the government has again placed restrictions on them. You see, they're needed to be preserved in more permanent forms—butter and cheese, for instance—that can be shipped abroad to our armies and allies.

Now, as always, you can look to Supplee for your full share of the available supply of milk and dairy products... and for the milk that's extra nourishing—Supplee Sealtest

Homogenized Vitamin D Milk with the cream mixed throughout. You can count on Supplee to keep you informed of any changes.
